DISTANCE LEARNING MANAGEMENT (FIRST APPLICATIONS)

Prof. Dr. Zeki Kaya
Gazi Üniversitesi, Gazi Eğitim Fakültesi
zkaya@gazi.edu.tr

Abstract
On the basis of how administrative distance education institutions are and how they are established; national requirements, social structure, characteristics of practice and cultural traditions. All these affect the management structure of distance education applications.

In this study, it has been tried to make administrative classification of distance education institutions. In order to classify distance education institutions in terms of management, firstly, the functions of management are explained. Then, institutional structure, independent-structured institutions, mixed-structured institutions, functioning, course development system, student support system and recommendations for managers are discussed.

Keywords: Distance education, management, first applications.