Abstract

Most of the students who come to vocational schools are either can't get enough score for faculty or use this school as stair to pass to faculty. Many of them come to these schools to delay military service or not want to be only high school graduate. The students who come just for these reasons can not agree with courses and school, they think that they start to life as negative and don't make any plan for their future and don't have any goal for their life. For these students who take communication course at first or second year of school think that the course look like guidance counselor course and they can have chance to express themselves. To find out the effects of communication course on students we made interview with twenty students. By this interview students sad their opinions and interpretations about the course.

Key Words: Vocational school, communication , communication course.
