

THE OPINIONS OF UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS ABOUT THEIR MUSICAL ACHIEVEMENTS IN THE PROCESS OF MAKING MUSIC TOGETHER

Dr. Öğr. Üyesi. Önder Mustul
Necmettin Erbakan Üniversitesi
Ahmet Keleşođlu Eđitim Fakóltesi
Müzık Eđitimi Anabilim Dalı
ondermustul@hotmail.com

Abstract

In this study, it is aimed to determine the positive or negative effects of a concert preparation process and the concert activity on the students. Work, Necmettin Erbakan University A.K.E.F. a total of 40 students who were educated in the department of music education and whose individual instruments were violin and viola and whose level differences were not taken into consideration. The rehearsals of "Violin and Viola Choir Concert " lasted three months, one day a week, and finally the concert took place. After the concert, the students were informed about the achievements gained during the preparation process and during the concert through the interview form. The study concluded that music together with music strengthened interpersonal communication, increased the motivation for working with the instrument, and had a positive impact on technical and musical development.

Keywords: Making music together, violin, viola, orchestra.